Saturday evening, October 7, 2023 "A Day of Sacred Connections" Email Preamble

The future is shaped by the accumulation of our choices, decisions, and actions in each moment. It is the destiny of the individual on the destiny of the individual, and the collective average of the entire human race on the destiny of the entire world. Suppose we observe this fact in detail as if magnifying it with a microscope. In that case, we can see that each individual's life is a continuous process of forks on the road that require choices, decisions, and actions at every moment.

Based on this, if we turn our attention to the ultimate point where our consciousness, which seeks "connection through the Divine," can reach, we can see that it begins with the connection with Guardian Deities and Spirits (vertical) and the connection in our immediate relationships (horizontal), and ends with "the state of perfect oneness" where all is completely unified, "the consciousness of the root of life," where all is unified. We arrive at the "state of perfect oneness" and "consciousness of the root of life," where everything is completely unified.

Many stages of "oneness" can be recognized in a single word. That is because the amount of grasping thoughts (capacity of limitation) of each individual is different. Therefore, the degree of freedom of our body and mind is determined by the degree to which we have released the limitations of our awareness.

The greater the number of limitations in our awareness, the more we can recognize only lower-dimensional space-time, and the fewer the number of limitations, the more we can tolerate various ways of being. At the same time, in our mind, we can look at all possibilities (parallel futures) simultaneously in an instant and immediately choose the desired future. In the mind, we can simultaneously look at all possibilities (parallel futures) in a split second. This "realm of consciousness that can look at all possibilities simultaneously and consciously choose the future by the truth without hesitation" is called the five-dimensional consciousness.

Our manifest consciousness has now passed through the fourth-dimensional stage. It is beginning to enter the fifth-dimensional realm, but from now on, just as the need for "net literacy" arose when the Internet became widespread, the "ability to be a god," or "higher dimensional literacy," will be needed more than ever. The "power to be SANISA," or "higher dimensional literacy," will become more necessary.

Internet Literacy

The ability to learn and observe the manners of using the Internet and effectively use one's knowledge and abilities on the Internet.

High-dimensional literacy

The power to effectively utilize the infinite creativity and wisdom inherent in human beings for the development of the planet and cosmic society, based on discerning by the Truth whether one's inspiration and intuition come from the source of life or are illusions from the lower-dimensional world.

However, if we always keep in mind to follow the great path of Truth, if we are always grateful to Guardian Deities and Spirits Consciousness while humbly washing away the impurities of our thoughts, and if we are always making our every move with an open mind, we can be sure that Guardian Spirits Consciousness and our surface consciousness will be in perfect harmony. We can manifest the Divine without going astray while maintaining a direct connection to Spiritual Body Consciousness and Divine Body Consciousness, which are connected to the Divine source of life.

Suppose you find any habit of self-centeredness, intolerance, self-indulgence, self-limitation, self-denial, etc., that has been putting a brake on your spiritual and Physical Body Consciousness. In that case, you can unite with God and the Universe with prayer and signs of your unconditional love for the unmanifested self. We will "emanate" the "Great Light of Life that continues to create and run the Universal God," which will bring nature and all living creatures back to life and help us remember the Divine. We will "launch" the "Great Light of Life that continues to create and run the universe" that will cause each human being to remember the sacred.

Saturday evening, October 7, 2023, "A Day Interconnected by Divinity," Opening Remarks.

Good evening, everyone. We will begin the evening Zoom Prayer meeting. From now on, it is very important for us to consciously do the "consciousness unrestricted" I mentioned in my email, as it will become a Special Divine Work. That is because by doing so, we will remember the consciousness of the 5th dimension.

To experience the "connection through the sacred" that I always tell you from the bottom of our hearts, we need to carefully "release restrictions" in our consciousness individually. By doing so, we will be able to draw out the "infinite number of elements" inherent in life from the beginning and use them to make the most of them.

First and foremost, forgiving, loving, and acknowledging all of ourselves is important. There is no point in thinking we are loving, forgiving, or acknowledging. There are many selves inhabiting the folds of our hearts that we are unaware of but which, on the surface, make us exclaim, "I can't believe I'm like this..." Even the slightest tug at our heartstrings is enough.

The reason why we feel like a rain cloud when someone else even slightly tugs at our heartstrings is that the unforgiven self and the unforgiven self, the unloved self and the unloved self, the unrecognized self and the unrecognized self, continue to smoke and conflict within us without extinguishing. That is because they are in constant conflict with each other.

At such times, when we acquire a perspective of divinity that allows us to look at everything from a bird's eye view, we can see both opposites simultaneously. The more you can see both sides of yourself simultaneously, the more the grasping thoughts that have prevented you from attaining Buddhahood are released, and the more the restrictions that have crippled your mind are lifted. The more the bright consciousness of holiness expands within your mind.

There is one thing that I recommend to you to practice this kind of true disappearing act. Every day, when you wake up in the morning and before you sleep at night, ask yourself, "Who am I?" and then keep asking yourself, "Who am I?" and "What is my true self?"

Continuing to do this will lead you to release your self-awareness, which tends to be confined to the five senses, into the ocean of the Divine and to get a bird's eye view of yourself. In this way, to the extent that we harmonize our inner universe, our relationships with others will also increase in dimension, and we will be able to see the background of all events from the depths of our emotions.

That is a state of consciousness in which we become one with Guardian Spirits and Guardian Deities Consciousness. When we look at the world from this perspective, we can see aspects of the world in which all people living are not just doing as they please. When we stand in the perspective of divinity, we can see ourselves and others with the inclusion of our guardian spirits and guardian deities.

Today, we recognize the fact that we are living as one with our Guardian Deities and Spirits as a matter of course, and from the same standpoint as the gods, we will look down on all situations on the earth and our various impressions of them, and gaze at all the thoughts floating in our minds like clouds flowing away, and try to understand the "Light of the Source of Life" beyond the barriers of dimensions. I want to radiate the "Light of the Source of Life" that transcends dimensional barriers.

It is time for the World Peace Prayer in English and Japanese. Please close your eyes and focus on the perspective of the divinity that allows you to see everything in all its fullness. When I say, "Yes, thank you," please open your eyes. Then, I will begin.
