Sunday evening, December 3, 2023, "A Day Interconnected by Divinity" Email Preamble

Who am I? Who are we, humanity?

When we place our consciousness in Lower Dantian, calm our minds, and ask ourselves these questions, life answers us with a solemn spark (our first intuition): "I am the Divine Being, and humanity is the Divine Being."

As we repeat these inner questions and answers between the surface consciousness and the depths of life, we end up at the deepest "place," the source of the universe (the source of life). When we return to the origin of the source and then follow the process of the creation of the universe back to the Physical Body, the following questions will be resolved.

Typical of these are...

"The nature and structure of humanity," "the relationship between fixed stars, planets, and satellites in a galaxy," "the process of developing the Creator's philosophy into a new star," "the similarities between the micro and macro," and "the outline of spirituality and materiality."

The Creator of the Universe, the "Source of Life," gave His nature to humanity as the one who developed His philosophy on each planet. At the same time, He gave us free will. Those above "his idea" is "to generate and operate a world in great harmony while achieving infinite evolution. That is the strict law that governs the operation of the macrocosm.

When we look at the present state of the earth from the standpoint of this original philosophy and cosmic law, we cannot say that the present state of this planet is a world of great harmony. However, the "Source of Life" is not blaming us for this fact or panicking. It continues to shine with unceasing light, supplying us with the elemental energy of life and keeping everything alive.

That is because even the temporary "amnesia of life" that we, humanity, suffer in planetary development is a program that the Creator has incorporated from the beginning. He also sees a future in which no matter how devastated humanity may appear, humanity will remember the divinity that is the essence of life. He knows that each of us manifests in our minds and bodies the nature of the great harmony that is the essence of life and brings that power with us to help develop the Earth.

The era of divinity civilization that will eventually develop on this planet will be a world full of people who remember the Creator's principles and recognize their body and soul as His alter ego. There is no ego in that world. There is no desire for self-aggrandizement. No one compares himself with others and says, "I am better than he is..." No one tries to force justice on others, nor is there anyone who tries to plunder the land by force, saying, "I want that land.... It is a world full of people who enjoy fulfilling their roles while sharing a common philosophy.

On Sunday night, we would like to look at all the events and phenomena happening on this planet without criticism, condemnation, or evaluation, as if we have returned to the past from the world of future civilization, where love, harmony, and truth is inseparable. In doing so, we will be freed from the obsession of goodness. We can then become a true Divine Being(SHINJIN) who sees all humanity, nature, and living things within ourselves and constantly shines the light that animates all things.

Opening Remarks

Hello, everyone. We will start the Zoom Prayer Meeting. Today, we would like to take this time to acknowledge from the bottom of our hearts the true nature of human beings, that "I am God himself," and that "humanity is also God himself."

With this awareness, we will embrace the "negative aspects or shortcomings of the masculine and the feminine," which cause the current disharmony in the world. And then, we will fully manifest the "positive aspects, substance, or advantages of the masculine and the feminine," which we have suppressed in our hearts.

I took up the topic of "masculinity and femininity" once before on Saturday evening, October 14, and the Goi Peace Foundation Forum also discussed the topic on Thursday, November 23 last month. Then, I would like to explore this topic in depth today.

In this issue, let us borrow a Taoist symbol, the Tai Yin Tai Chi Chart, to see how masculinity and femininity (polarity) are structured.

Yin and Yang (Polarity) in the human mind

The above picture shows two black-and-white shapes on the right and left. We see the black as the feminine and the white as the masculine this time.

Looking at black and white, we see white in black and black in white.

If we look at the black color, the large black is the feminine entity, the yang of the yin-yang, and the small white within the black is the shadow of the feminine, the yin of the yin-yang.

If we look at the white color similarly, the large white color is the masculine entity, the yin-yang yang, and the small white color within the masculine entity is the shadow of the masculine, the yin-yang yin.

If this diagram represents the normal state of human nature mind, what is going on in people's minds today is that the small part of the shadow, the yin part of the yin-yang, has grown distorted, and the large part, the substance, has become smaller. The yin and the yang, the substance and the shadow, are reversed.

When the yin and yang in the feminine are reversed, negative aspects such as "attachment to others," "dependence," "envy," and "possessiveness" become manifest and swirl in the mind. It is because the feminine nature works primarily within the mind.

When the black part of the big white shadow of masculinity grows to a large size, as is evident in the current world situation, aggression toward the weak. It is a disharmonious echo of the world, "fight to take," "kill to fulfill," and "make others do what you say. These shadowy movements of masculinity work outwardly and thus profoundly affect others.

If I say it up to this point, it is easy to understand why there is so much talk today about the importance of "activating the feminine gender. It is because it is the shadow side of masculinity that has a superficial influence on the world. In contrast, the strengths of masculinity and femininity are completely weak and are not a driving force in the world.

To harmonize the world in the shortest possible time, we must bring forth in our hearts the substance of our feminine nature, the part of substance, the part of the big black color. That is the most effective way to neutralize the shadow and shortcomings of masculinity.

Therefore, we need to consciously express in our thoughts, words, and actions the advantages or substance of femininity that can effectively neutralize the disadvantages of masculinity.

Today, we will sow seeds of "joy and gratitude for being alive and living" in the world of the earth, being aware that our life has such a great heart of compassion and the nature of love itself. At that time, our True Self will sprinkle the light of blessing to all beings. With confidence and certainty, let us radiate the "light from the source of life that animates and nurtures all things" while looking at all the situations and thoughts going through our minds.

Now it's time to pray for world peace in Japanese and English. I will use three and a half minutes of audio, so please pray with your eyes closed and focus on the divinity. Then when I say, "Hai, arigatou gozai-mashita," open your eyes. Then, let's get started.
